Dear Charlie,

Below is a compilation of the thoughts and feelings we gleaned from the surveys submitted to us following the first Survivorship Symposium sponsored by The Regional Cancer Center on September 21, 2012. I don't think either Sarah's words or mine could better describe what your performance did for the survivors in attendance:

Wonderful! Please have him back! * Uplifting, glad I came to this conference to see him! * Very, Very Uplifting. * Gave me great idea on book I am working on. * Awesome, doesn't need any other word to describe! * Fantastic, In song he captured our fears, anger, disbelief, our hope, our victories! Very inspirational! * Wonderful presentation. * Loved his energy, he was right on; especially when he said your "new" after treatment, he gets it! * Great way to start off the conference. * Very emotional loved it. * Could have listened to him for hours, great choice, loved his enthusiasm and message. * Very inspiring. * OMG he is so uplifting! * Enjoyed. * Very positive what the world needs. * Fantastic speaker, * Love, love, loved It. I will look into more information from him and buy his book, loved him! * Very upbeat and entertaining, much appreciated. * remarkable, could have listened all day, excellent. * Perfect - thank you for bringing him! * Very good humor Is so Important with coping. * Charlie Is great what a positive person. * Very motivated. * Let's do it again! * He is fab! just wonderful presentation, could listen to him over & over again, very impressive, his energy is so contagious. * Inspirational, Funny. * Fun and inspiring, good presenter, like that he experienced it made more credible as they are his words of inspiration. * Very good * Charlie is truly an Inspiration. * Very positive and would have liked longer length. * Great job, have him back next year! * truly world class cancer survivor, great presentation. * great speaker. *no anger - that's what has to change In all of us!!!! * very good.

The feedback we received for the day was amazingly positive but, clearly, you started the day off with a bang and set the tone for a successful and meaningful experience for all. 94% of the attendees rate you as excellent in all categories and the other 6% rated you as very good. I have a feeling you have heard that kind of review in the past. This just confirms what others already knew – you're an inspiration to those you serve.

I wish you the best of health and success in your future outreach!

Sincerely,

John F. Girard
